

BSc Horticulture

Questions of the oral exam

- Situation, significance and characteristics of medicinal plant production in different regions of the world
- Cultivar use in medicinal and aromatic plant production, characteristics of MAP cultivars, special goals in breeding
- Goals and main methods of medicinal plant pots harvest processing
- Characterisation, use and complex cultivation technologies of mint and oregano species
- Characterisation, use and complex cultivation technologies of lavender species and rosemary
- Characterisation, use and complex cultivation technologies of garden sage and garden thyme
- Characterisation, use and complex cultivation technologies of eucalyptus and lemon grass
- Characterisation, use and complex cultivation technologies of coriander and fennel
- Characterisation, use and complex cultivation technologies of oil pumpkin and annual wormwood (A. annua)
- Characterisation, use and complex cultivation technologies of safflower and oil flax
- Characterisation, use and complex cultivation technologies of ricinus and basil (O. basilicum)
- Characterisation, use and complex cultivation technologies of opium poppy and periwinkle
- Characterisation, use and complex cultivation technologies of ginkgo and senna
- Characterisation, use and complex cultivation technologies of milk thistle and fenugreek
- Characterisation, use and complex cultivation technologies of purple coneflower (Echinacea) species and licorice
- Characterisation, use and complex cultivation technologies of chamomile and pot marigold (C. officinalis)

- Characterisation, use and complex cultivation technologies of ginseng species and safran (C. sativus)
- Characterisation, use and complex cultivation technologies of aloe species and Nigella damascena